MAN WHO FELL UNDER TRAIN DIES AT HOSPITAL

James Leonardas, the Greek who was injured Tuesday night at Evanston, when he fell beneath the wheels of a Union Pacific train, died last night at the Dee hospital. His body was removed to the Kirkendall mortuary to be prepared for burial and the funeral will be held in the Kirkendall chapel at 3 p. m. Saturday. Interment will be in Mountain View cemetery.

It was thought that the deceased had relatives in Ogden, but, on investigation, it was found that they were only friends and that, as far as known, he had no relatives in this country.

The latest information concerning the manner of the fatal accident, is that Leonardas, while under the influence of liquor, stepped from a moving passenger train and fell beneath its wheels. He had been greeting and then bidding good-bye to some of his countrymen.

FUNERAL SERMON BY PROF. M'KENDRICK

Mrs. George F. Cave and daughter, Mrs. Guy E. Nelson, returned home yesterday from Boise, Idaho, where they attended the funeral of Fred Burley, a brother of Mrs. Cave, on Tuesday afternoon. The funeral was held in the Frye-Summers undertaking parlors, with Bishop Lewis of the Mormon First ward presiding. The funeral sermon was preached by Prof. M. McKendrick, formerly principal of the Weber academy in Ogden, who now occupies an important position at the Idaho state capital. In every way the burden of sorrow borne by Mrs. Cave and her daughter was lightened by the former Ogden man and Bishop Lewis.

The service, though the notice was short, was well attended by Mormon residents of Boise, and the fellow railroad employees of the deceased attended in a body. Interment was at Boise.

ACCIDENT TO A BOY IS BASIS OF A DAMAGE SUIT

The city board of commissioners this morning referred to the city attorney the claim of Mrs. Augusta L. Ramsperger for $5,200 for injuries to her son, Albert Ramsperger, whom she claims was badly hurt on Polk avenue and Twenty-ninth street, November 21, when the horse he was riding stepped into a ditch or excavation made by the city and fell, throwing the young man violently to the ground.

Mrs. Ramsperger avers that the ditch was about six inches deep and two feet wide, and that it was so unguarded that it could not be readily seen. She says that as the boy came to the corner on his pony the animal stepped into the excavation and fell headlong. The young man suffered a broken right leg and was otherwise badly injured. Albert Ramsperger is 17 years of age.

Society

FRENCH SOCIETY.

The French speaking members of the Mormon church met in a social at the Ninth ward meeting house December 6, which was the result of an organization being formed by the elders who have labored as missionaries among the French speaking people. The organization was perfected with Fred W. Hodgson as president, Grant C. Brown as vice president and W. Earl Reed as secretary and treasurer. Musical numbers were rendered and talks by James L. Barker of the Weber academy, Alphonse Dieu and President John Watson of the Weber stake. Professor Barker told of a Mr. Paillard, French professor of languages, whom he met while in Paris, and who was killed fighting for his country at the "Dardanelles." Mr. Paillard was well known by the elders, having assisted the elders years ago in the translation of the scriptures into French. Two years ago while Elder Reed was in Paris working at headquarters, Mr. Paillard spent several hours with him and other elders translating the religious literature. President John Watson expressed his surprise to find so many of the French speaking people together. He spoke of his relatives who can be traced back to Belgium, one of whom was buried in Antwerp. Mr. Alphonse Dieu, a French convert who has been in America for about four years, related an incident pertaining to his conversion to Mormonism. Two elders one day while traveling met Mr. Dieu (God) and after a long talk with him left with the promise to call and see him again in a few days. When the time came to go back the elders could not find where Mr. Dieu lived, but after a day or so began inquiry for his address. On one occasion they accosted a middle aged woman and asked her if she knew a Mr. Dieu (God). She replied, yes, and when asked where he lived she pointed up to the open blue sky and said—Up there. The name meaning God and the inquirers being foreigners she could not help but make light of their inquiry. The entire program was carried out in French. French rice pies and Christmas cakes were served. Other refreshments were served in American style.

THINGS SIZZLING IN U. S. PROBE

Inquiry Takes New Turn and Large Number of New Witnesses Called Before Jury.

New York, Dec. 9.—"Things are sizzling" in the government investigation into the alleged activities of Franz von Rintelen and his associates to incite strikes in munition factories, it was learned today from federal officers in charge of the inquiry.

Following United States District Attorney Marshall's sudden summons to Washington yesterday, it was announced today that the grand jury which is investigating the Rintelen case, would probably not be reconvened before next week and that a large number of new witnesses would appear before it. Officials refused to give any intimation as to the new turn the inquiry had taken.

For the first time today it was officially admitted that German and Austrian consuls may be mentioned in the report of the grand jury. It was also stated that one of the subjects which has been given close attention by the jurors was the strike at the General Electric company's works at Schenectady last summer. Twelve thousand workers were involved in this strike which lasted several weeks.

At the time it was repeatedly rumored that German influences were behind the strikers. The General Electric company has large contracts with the allies for munitions.

WORLD'S MARKETS

New York, Dec. 9.—Irregular price changes with a majority of nominal advances, accompanied today's early dealings. Overnight developments, including the note to Austria, were without effect beyond imparting a degree of hesitation. Bear selling of United States Steel depressed that stock half a point to 86 3/4, from which it promptly rose to 87 5/8. There were further substantial gains in certain specialties, especially motor issues but rails were dull and narrow. Anglo-French notes for future delivery made the new low quotation of 95 3/4.

FRENCH WRITER REVIEWS MESSAGE

Paris, Dec. 9, 4:40 a. m.—Under the caption "Gulliver Wakes Up," Joseph Reinach, the political writer, in an article in the Figaro, comments at length on President Wilson's message to congress. He declares that the message was animated by righteous anger, although not altogether free from metaphysics.

It is evident, says M. Reinach, that the president was moved to the deepest indignation by the revelations in the trial of the director and several employees of the Hamburg-American steamship line on a charge of conspiring to defraud the government.

Germany's Secret Designs.

"The more one reflects," says M. Reinach, "the more one is convinced that the economic and political absorption of America is one of the great secret designs of the German empire and that consequently nothing is more inevitable than an eventual conflict between Germany and the United States. Such a war is written in the great book of destiny. None can efface the writing. Human nature is not absolute. It is limited by nature and the logic of things. It is for America to decide whether to let Germany choose the hour or choose it herself."

Papers Approve Message.

Most of the other newspapers refer to the message with approval. The Matin says that much greater weight is lent to the message by the fact that it is delivered within a few months of the presidential campaign. Mr. Roosevelt himself could hardly have spoken more vigorously, the paper says, and adds:

"Thus the Progressives, the Republicans and the majority then draw together before the danger of the German-American terrorist. Has Germany spent her $50,000,000 in vain?"
